

Delivering 3 million IT hygiene treatments to more than 18,000 locations across the UK.

That's intelligence

Our hygiene solutions, delivered by more than 300 technicians, are proven to provide a 99.9% germ-free, dust-free clean. With over 100 years' experience Interserve is one of the UK's leading providers of IT hygiene solutions.

Hygienic working environments are harder to achieve than imagined. Bacteria are more easily passed between employees with the increase in open-plan workspaces and hot-desking. IT devices such as telephones and desktop equipment, as well as networked tools such as photocopiers and printers, are a major source for transferring harmful bacteria.

Boost productivity with absolute cleanliness

Interserve specialises in removing harmful bacteria from workspaces to minimise the spread of infection, reduce absenteeism and support the peak performance of equipment.

We have the expertise to develop a unique hygiene solution for your spaces, whatever environment you're in: from offices, retail outlets and industrial warehouses through to schools and hospitals. Our team begin by analysing your building's usage, traffic and occupancy habits, as well as historical performance. Before we propose anything, we think hard: considering and questioning everything. We take the time to understand the true effects any action may have on your business performance and employee productivity.

Our technicians are trained to work in controlled environments such as server rooms and data centres, where general cleaners cannot go. This means we know the best way to maintain your equipment to support peak performance, however critical your IT infrastructure is.

All this means you get much more than a functional hygiene service. You get a highly experienced, strategic partner. Our smarter, more sustainable hygiene solutions make us the intelligent choice for IT hygiene.
